
Administrative Assistant Certificate

Time Management and Scheduling

Administrative Assistant Certificate: A program that provides training in various administrative tasks, including time management and scheduling.

Availability Management: The process of planning and controlling time to ensure that resources are available when needed. Related terms include scheduling, capacity management, and demand management.

Calendar Management: The process of organizing and maintaining a calendar to keep track of appointments, meetings, and deadlines. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and appointment setting.

Deadline Management: The process of ensuring that tasks are completed by a specific date and time. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Demand Management: The process of forecasting and controlling the demand for resources. Related terms include availability management, scheduling, and capacity management.

Meeting Management: The process of planning, organizing, and conducting meetings. Related terms include scheduling, agenda setting, and minute taking.

Microsoft Outlook: A personal information manager from Microsoft, which includes an e-mail client, calendar, task manager, contact manager, and note taking application. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and e-mail management.

Project Management: The process of planning, organizing, and controlling resources to achieve specific goals and objectives. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and deadline management.

Scheduling: The process of allocating time and resources to specific tasks. Related terms include calendar management, availability management, and project management.

Task Management: The process of organizing and prioritizing tasks to increase productivity. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Time Blocking: A time management technique where a person dedicates specific time slots for different tasks or activities. Related terms include scheduling, calendar management, and deadline management.

Time Management: The process of planning and exercising control of time spent on specific activities to increase effectiveness, efficiency, and productivity. Related terms include scheduling, calendar management, and task management.

Time Tracking: The process of recording how much time is spent on specific tasks or activities. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Workload Management: The process of organizing and prioritizing tasks to ensure that workload is manageable. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and task management.

Agenda: A list of topics to be discussed in a meeting. Related terms include meeting management, scheduling, and time management.

Appointment: A prearranged meeting or engagement. Related terms include calendar management, scheduling, and time management.

Availability: The state of being free or available for a task or activity. Related terms include capacity management, scheduling, and demand management.

Capacity: The maximum amount that something can produce or hold. Related terms include availability management, demand management, and scheduling.

Deadline: A specific date or time by which a task must be completed. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

E-mail Management: The process of organizing and managing e-mails to increase productivity. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and Microsoft Outlook.

Minute Taking: The process of recording the events of a meeting. Related terms include meeting management, scheduling, and time management.

Prioritization: The process of determining the importance or urgency of tasks to increase productivity. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and task management.

Resource: A person, material, or asset used in the production of a good or service. Related terms include availability management, demand management, and scheduling.

Time Slice: A unit of time allocated for a specific task or activity. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and time blocking.

To-Do List: A list of tasks that need to be completed. Related terms include task management, scheduling, and time management.

Calendar: A table that displays dates and periods of time. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and calendar management.

Capacity Management: The process of ensuring that resources are available when needed. Related terms include availability management, scheduling, and demand management.

Deadline Management: The process of ensuring that tasks are completed by a specific date and time. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Demand: The amount of a resource that is required. Related terms include availability management, capacity management, and scheduling.

E-mail: A method of exchanging messages between people using electronic devices. Related terms include e-mail management, scheduling, and Microsoft Outlook.

Meeting: A gathering of two or more people for the purpose of discussing or deciding something. Related terms include meeting management, scheduling, and time management.

Microsoft Outlook Calendar: A calendar feature in Microsoft Outlook used for scheduling appointments, meetings, and deadlines. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and e-mail management.

Project: A temporary endeavor undertaken to create a unique product or service. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Scheduling Software: Software used for organizing and managing tasks and appointments. Related terms include calendar management, time management, and Microsoft Outlook.

Task: An action or job that needs to be done. Related terms include task management, scheduling, and time management.

Time Management Skills: The ability to plan and exercise control of time spent on specific activities to increase effectiveness, efficiency, and productivity. Related terms include scheduling, calendar management, and task management.

Workload: The amount of work a person has to do. Related terms include workload management, scheduling, and time management.

Appointment Scheduling: The process of arranging a time and date for a meeting or engagement. Related terms include calendar management, scheduling, and time management.

Capacity Planning: The process of determining the production capacity needed by an organization to meet the demand for its products. Related terms include availability management, demand management, and scheduling.

Deadline Reminder: A feature in scheduling software that reminds the user of upcoming deadlines. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Demand Forecasting: The process of estimating the demand for a product or service. Related terms include availability management, capacity management, and scheduling.

E-mail Reminder: A feature in scheduling software that reminds the user of upcoming appointments or deadlines via e-mail. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and e-mail management.

Meeting Invitation: A feature in scheduling software that allows the user to invite others to a meeting. Related terms include meeting management, scheduling, and time management.

Microsoft Outlook Tasks: A task management feature in Microsoft Outlook used for organizing and prioritizing tasks. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and e-mail management.

Project Planning: The process of defining and planning the tasks and resources needed to complete a project. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Resource Allocation: The process of assigning and managing resources to specific tasks or projects. Related terms include availability management, demand management, and scheduling.

Task Prioritization: The process of determining the importance or urgency of tasks to increase productivity. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and task management.

Time Tracking Software: Software used for recording how much time is spent on specific tasks or activities. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Workload Balancing: The process of distributing work evenly among team members. Related terms include workload management, scheduling, and time management.

Calendar Sharing: The process of giving others access to your calendar. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and calendar management.

Capacity Utilization: The extent to which resources are used. Related terms include availability management, demand management, and scheduling.

Deadline Management Software: Software used for organizing and tracking deadlines. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Demand Management Software: Software used for forecasting and controlling the demand for resources. Related terms include availability management, capacity management, and scheduling.

E-mail Scheduling: The process of scheduling e-mails to be sent at a later time. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and e-mail management.

Meeting Minutes: A written record of a meeting. Related terms include meeting management, scheduling, and time management.

Microsoft Outlook Appointment: A feature in Microsoft Outlook used for scheduling appointments and meetings. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and e-mail management.

Project Time Management: The process of planning, organizing, and controlling the time needed to complete a project. Related terms include scheduling, time management, and project management.

Resource Leveling: The process of